

Next ENViL meeting postponed

The next meeting of our network was planned in conjunction with the InSEA European Congress in Baeza (Spain), from July 6 till 9, 2020.

We have been informed via their Newsletter, that InSEA has decided to postpone this congress until further notice. As soon as we know more about the new dates of this conference we will inform you. We prefer to combine forces and therefore hope the ENViL meeting can take place during this InSEA congress later this year.

ENViL Board

As announced in Paris in March 2018, the current ENViL Board will end its term this year. We planned to have the new Board elected at the InSEA Congress in July. As the situation is different now, we hope a new Board will be ready to take over this summer, before our next meeting. We therefore, through this Newsletter, invite individual ENViL members to express their interest in taking a position in the ENViL Board. Andrea Kárpáti and Gabriella Pataky have expressed their willingness to serve for another term in the ENViL Board. As you all know ENViL is an informal network of art educators (researchers, curriculum developers, teacher trainers), so there are no specific rules how to elect a new Board. We just need people who are interested in cooperative research projects in our domain at European level and are willing to take responsibility to make things work. When you are connected to an institute with a strong European network and which has an interest in international (European) projects this would be very helpful. But any devoted art educator is most welcome to join the Board.

When you are interested in entering the Board of ENViL please let me know.
